You have seen or heard the stories everywhere lately- TV, the internet, newspapers; recalls of toys, food products, hard goods all made in China. China's lack of environmental and consumer laws for manufacturers is now beginning to affect their reputation! We are not here to revel in China's troubles; our country is now too far dependant on China for it's manufacturing output.

We want you to know there are still companies in the U.S. Textile industry that are real manufacturers, making goods in the U.S., employing workers in the U.S. James Thompson & Co. takes pride in being one of these companies! Our little slogan on the top of this newsletter, "Weavers & Finishers Since 1860", is a testament to our great customers and employees over the span of 147 years! While we now leave the weaving of our greige goods to contracted Mills, our Delaware Mill dyes and finishes all of our fabrics, including Burlap, Duck/Canvas, Flannel, & Monks Cloth.

We are constantly upgrading our processes and equipment to give our customers only the best in fabrics and service. If you read our last Newsletter, the "Green" issue, you will know what we are doing on environmental manufacturing issues; we are going beyond state and U.S. guidelines to position ourselves as a 21st Century Mill.

So, what does all this mean to our customers? Hopefully, that they feel confident they are buying a quality made-in the United States fabric!
